To play the dot game:
Use 2 different colored highlighters.
Make a line connecting two dots naming the two body parts on either side of the line. Then, it's your partner's turn. If your line completes a square, you claim that square (color it in), and you get to make an additional line.
The player with the most squares wins.