

Proyecto--el mapa

Nombre _____

You will be creating a map of a city that you create. The map must be at least the size of a large piece of construction paper and must include some artwork (yours or cut and paste). It should be colorful and “eye-catching”. Included on your map, you must have a minimum of fifteen different commercial buildings or places (see gradesheet for more details). These should be named and labeled in Spanish. Make sure that all labels are neat and legible and spelled correctly to get credit. You also need to include and label at least four major streets and four homes of particular people. Remember that to say a home belongs to someone you need to use the phrase “la casa de _____”. You need a name for your city and at least one or two items on the outskirts (not just within the city limits).

Next, you will write two short descriptions of “A day in the life...”, one of a person who lives in the city & another of a person who is visiting the city. Each description should be 2-3 paragraphs long and written in the present tense. However, each should include at least two different verb phrases and para. Be sure to use time references (in the morning, at 2:00,...) and transitional words to add order to the events (después, luego, próximo,...). Again, be sure to look at the rubric for additional details.

Finally, you will do an oral presentation of your city. It will be very simple & straightforward. You will need to use words to indicate spatial relationships (on ___ street, across from, next to, to the right of, on the corner,...). Your presentation will include some of your favorite places & why you like them (just 2 or 3).
